Japanese News Agency Allowed To Resume On Restricted Basis

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
U. S. Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sept. 15.—Seventy-six Japanese daily newspapers were back in business today after a nineteen hour news blackout which resulted from General Douglas MacArthur's radioing of the Domei news agency.

All the Jap newspapers relied heavily on the propaganda and news reports of Domei which was permitted to resume operation at noon today on a restricted basis.

Only in Domestic Field
In the future Domei must operate only in the domestic field and will not be permitted to use its existing foreign service. If Domei wants foreign news it can buy it from the American Press association services, it was told, or rely on official American sources.

The nineteen hour closure of Domei, American officials said, was made in order to "discipline" Domei for circulating news and harmful stories which endangered the "tranquillity of the public."

Inosuke Furuno, president of Domei, was told in clear cut language on just what terms the Japanese government's main propaganda instrument may continue to operate. Furuno had denied that Domei had

Lt. Col. Devereux, Wake Island Hero, Enroute To Tokyo

Wake Island Defender May Make Stop At Island Enroute To United States

ABOARD THE USS PANAMINT
Oahu Harbor, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Lt. Col. James P. Devereux, heroic commander of Wake Island marines, was warmly greeted today by Vice Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher aboard his flagship, the USS Panamint, in Oahu harbor.

Although his weight was down from 135 to 113 pounds after nearly four years imprisonment by the Japs, Devereux said:

"I feel fine. The fellow here, who was liberated from a prison camp in northwestern Hokkaido and flown to Western by a navy carrier plane, seemed to be in fair health."

Tomorrow he will be flown to Tokyo by a navy flying boat and thence to the United States, possibly making a stop enroute at Wake Island where the stars and stripes have been returned by U. S. marines.

"Yes, I guess I would like to take a look at Wake again," said Devereux.

Units Of Pacific Fleet Preparing For Return Home

New York Harbor To Be Goal Of Triumphant Return To United States

PLAN CELEBRATION NAVY DAY, OCT. 27

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Units of America's powerful battle fleet—paved by the mighty Missouri—were preparing today for the long-awaited homeward journey sometime this month with New York harbor as the goal.

Officially the navy maintained silence on the anticipated mass fleet movement from the Pacific, although it was understood that the Missouri, with Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz aboard, was due in New York in time to celebrate navy day, Oct. 27.

It also has been reported reliably that President Truman would go to New York for the occasion, and that he was expected to deliver an address from the deck of the Missouri, which recently was the scene of the signing of Japanese surrender documents in Tokyo bay.

To Honor Navy

Rep. Vinson (D. Ga.) meanwhile disclosed that a joint session of congress will be held next month to honor the men who led the navy to victory in the Pacific.

The chairman of the house naval affairs committee said the joint session of the house and senate will be held early in October at a date to be announced next week.

Honored guests at the joint session will include the leading figures of the navy and marine corps, many of whom are still in the Pacific and the men who carried out

President At Missouri Home For Brief Stay

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Sept. 15.—(INS)—Harry Truman, back in his home town for a quiet week-end, had plans for two things today—to see his 92-year-old mother, and do a little work as President of the United States.

The President arrived at his newly painted white house on Delaware avenue late yesterday, accompanied by the first lady, and joined by his daughter, Mary Margaret, who is spending the summer in this quiet Missouri town.

To Visit Mother

One of the chief reasons for his visit "back home" is to see his mother, who lives at Grand View, 15 miles from Independence. It is expected that he will spend a good part of a quiet Saturday visiting her.

The chief executive obviously enjoys traveling by air, and greeted reporters in an exuberant mood at the doors of his Independence home after a six hour flight from Washington.

Reporters, who traveled in an official "fill-in" by Mr. Truman of remarks he made at the Paducah, Ky., airport where Senator Barkley (D. Ky.) alighted after flying with him from the nation's capital.

"I told them a crowd at the airport that I was glad to bring Senator Barkley back home and see so many people," the President said to reporters. "I expressed the hope that there would be many people every time he comes home."

Mrs. Truman will remain in Independence with her daughter, Mary Margaret, but the President will return to the White House late Sunday afternoon, by plane.

Report 45,000 To Seek Wage Raise

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Demands for a $2-a-day wage increase for 45,000 steel workers employed by firms in the Philadelphia area, today were expected to be filed soon.

Richard Davidson, acting director of the local district of the CIO-United Steel Workers of America, said the union will attempt to reopen the wage clause in contracts with former war plants in Philadelphia, Trenton, N. J., and Norristown.

President Truman's executive order allowing wage increases if they do not increase prices was given as the basis for the demands.

SARATOGA'S DECK TURNED INTO MASTER BEDROOM

The grand old carrier U. S. S. Saratoga and 3,710 Navy officers and men who bunked on her flight deck are shown above as the veteran ship emerged from the fog outside the Golden Gate. The "Sara" left her planes behind at Pearl Harbor and made the trip to San Francisco in five days with her giant hangar deck turned into a tremendous master bedroom of 2,000 four-tiered steel bunks. In three years of Pacific fighting the "Sara" was not hit until the invasion of Iwo Jima, when five Jap torpedoes started roaring fires, killing 123 and wounding 192 of her crew. After a quick repair job, the gallant ship was back in the war for the finish. Her next trip will be to Eniwetok in the Marshalls to bring home another group of veterans.

Twenty-Two Veterans Die In Plane Crash

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Twenty-two returning veterans from overseas battle fronts en route to their west coast homes were killed early today near Kansas City when a C-47 military air transport plane crashed and burned a few minutes after leaving Fairfax municipal airport.

Of the 21 passengers and three crew members aboard the plane only three survived the crash. One of those died later at Kansas City General hospital.

Attaches at the hospital reported that the condition of the two survivors—both non-commissioned officers and European theater veterans—was "critical." They were:

Cpl. Fred E. Pasadena, Calif., who suffered a fractured leg, internal injuries and burns.

Sgt. Oza D. Delone, thought to be from San Bernardino, Calif., severe burns, crushed leg, unconscious.

Sgt. Bernard C. Tucker, whose age

Capital Firemen Search In Vain But Are Happy

HARRISBURG, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Harrisburg firemen were thankful today that their six-hour "mission" last night was fruitless—they searched the debris of a building destroyed by fire, fearing some children may have been trapped in the rubble.

The vacant building, formerly a children's home, was swept by fire yesterday which officials said caused damages estimated at $35,000.

Firemen used acetylene torches to cut away masses of twisted metal after it was believed that some children, who were seen playing nearby, had been caught under a tumbling wall.

Philadelphia Port Tied Up By Strike

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Shipping activity in the port of Philadelphia—second largest in the Nation—remained at a standstill today as 500 tugboat workers continued their walkout.

The crews of 45 tugboats tied up their craft at 5 p. m. yesterday in a dispute centered around retroactive overtime payments.

The men are members of the Union Harbor Workers, an affiliate of District 30 of the United Mine Workers.

William Collier, union business agent, declared the men would remain idle until retroactive wages due them under a War Labor Board order are paid in full by the operating companies.

Auto Industry Is Facing Tieup

Labor And Management Face Situation Without Precedent In Production History

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Labor and management today faced a situation without precedent in production history.

Greater Detroit and Windsor, Ont., across the Detroit river, were virtually strike-bound. More than 67,000 workers were idle in Detroit, 11,000 in Windsor and an additional 10,000 Ford workers in plants elsewhere in the country were held off because of the strike.

In Detroit, sprawling industrial metropolises where thousands can be seen every conceivable means to speed production records during the war, the world's largest labor union was making plans to obtain a general 30 per cent wage increase for its more than a million members.

As a result, the entire automotive industry is facing a tieup.

The fate of Mrs. McKimney, whose mother of two children, was in the hands of a jury of seven men and five women today after a trial lasting two weeks.

Mrs. McKimney was tried on a charge that she shot and killed her 29-year-old husband, Wendell, last July 16 as he was taking a bath after returning from work.

Spectators felt certain the Warren woman would not be found guilty of first degree murder.

Japanese Papers Protest Printing Atrocities Stories

HOWARD HANDLEMAN
U. S. Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sept. 15.—Seventy-six Japanese daily newspapers back in business today after a 19-hour news blackout resulting from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's suspension of Domei news agency, sought desperately to avoid publishing atrocity stories they have been ordered to carry.

Japanese officials, representing the Japanese board of information, said publication of the grim details of Japanese brutality might pose fatal to the new ministry and cause unrest among troops still mobilized.

They further declared that they had instructed Japanese newspapers not to carry the stories, which General MacArthur had ordered them to begin publishing in the next two days, until they had presented their objections personally to MacArthur.

The action was in Yokohama today, trying to arrange an interview with the supreme commander.

Their objections were then presented to Lt. Gen. C. J. Wendell, Greene of St. Petersburg, Fla., head of MacArthur's information assembly branch. The Jap officials told Greene the Japanese public had been "saturated" with bad news recently and they feared the effect of further bad news on the people.

Delay Decision On Teaching Religion In Public Schools

URBANA, Ill., Sept. 15.—(INS)—Three circuit court judges today awaited the filing of briefs by both sides before giving a decision on the question of permitting religious instruction in public schools of Champaign.

The trial in which an avowed atheist seeks to force the Champaign public school board to discontinue the teaching of religion in schools under its jurisdiction came to an end yesterday with closing arguments by both sides.

For six hours yesterday the judges listened while attorneys for Mrs. Vashli McCollum, the self-styled atheist, and for Champaign school district No. 71, the defendant, cited sections of the federal and state constitutions to uphold their cases.

Landon L. Chapman, attorney for Mrs. McCollum, declared the school board was using taxpayers' money in permitting the classes and that "religious education on teachers have no more right to go into and take over a classroom in the public schools than a peanut vendor."

To the arguments that the classes were voluntary and that no child was embarrassed by not taking them, Chapman repeated the testimony of Mrs. McCollum's son James, 10, Chapman insisted the testimony showed James was subjected to embarrassment and pressure.

the assaults of Guadalcanal, Tarawa, Saipan and Okinawa.

Meanwhile, New York was making elaborate preparations for the gala occasion. Hotel reservations indicated the nation's largest city was expecting a peacetime invasion by navy brass hats and blue jackets the last week in October.

Commissioner New Carrier

Also scheduled for the same period in New York was the commissioning of the giant 45,000-ton aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, which previously was named the Coral Sea.

The fleet concentration in New York harbor for navy day is expected to be the greatest ever seen along the Atlantic coast. For millions of persons it will be the first glimpse of the naval might that placed an important part in crushing Japan, Germany and Italy.

Coincidentally, navy day this year will precede by only two days the official opening of the victory loan drive, in which government and military and naval leaders will participate.

The Missouri will lead the Florida from Pacific waters through the Panama Canal and into the Atlantic. However, warships home-ward bound will be only a small part of the nation's great fleet of more than 1,200 combatant vessels.

Many biackjacks and officers will celebrate navy day on the high seas or patrolling Japanese waters on the alert against any signs of trouble.

Over 60 Ships To Take Part

WASHINGTON Sept. 15.—(INS)—The navy announced today that the mighty battleship Missouri and other famous vessels of America's world fleet will visit Atlantic and Pacific ports to celebrate Navy Day, Oct. 27.

A tentative list of more than 60 warships that will take part in the celebration was announced by the navy. Other details, including the ports in which the vessels will drop anchor, will be announced later.

Powerful units, paced by the 45,000-ton Missouri, were expected to sail into New York harbor in one of the greatest displays of naval might ever seen along the Atlantic coast.

Units heading for Pacific ports will be led by the famous battleship South Dakota, veteran of many Pacific battles in the days when the American navy was outnumbered by the Japanese Imperial fleet.

Fleet Admiral Nimitz was expected to be aboard the Missouri, and was reliably reported that President Truman would go to New York to deliver a speech from the deck of the famous vessel on which the Japanese surrender documents were signed.

Prepare For Emergencies

Red Cross workers were in the field directing evacuations and preparing for emergencies.

Army and Navy authorities, recognizing the potential destructiveness of the disturbance, took precautions to lessen their losses. The Navy last night completed flight of several hundred planes based at Miami to points regarded as safe while craft of the Army Transport Command were flown to safer bases in Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

Four thousand military personnel, including 200 Wacs, billeted at the Miami Army airfield, moved to the Hialeah race track and were housed in more substantial buildings. Those who could not be accommodated at the track were sent to sturdy Colonnade buildings in Coral Gables. Many carried field stoves and two days provisions.

All passes and leaves were cancelled at the Miami Naval Air station and the entire personnel ordered to report to their commands last night.

'BEAST OF BATAAN' NOW IN CUSTODY OF U. S. OFFICERS

General Douglas MacArthur's master list of wanted war criminals although none has been made public yet.

The arrest of Homma and the others came during a day unmarked by any suicides, such as the three which occurred yesterday.

Eight Turned Over

Before the arrest of Homma, Laurel and the others taken into custody today, the Japanese government turned over eight other Japs and quislings named in General Douglas MacArthur's master of 40 wanted for Allied justice.

Among these were the commanding officers of the notorious Shimogawa hospital and the Ofuna prison camp where American prisoners were tortured.

Homma was reported to have declared he was ready to take "full responsibility" for the acts of his subordinate officers in the Philippines.

Arrest Laurel

A ten man intelligence team, headed by Lt. Col. Chapman Turner of Kansas City, arrested Laurel, his son and Quinto at Nara, 20 miles from Osaka, last night. They were brought to Yokohama by plane this afternoon.

Americans in the Philippines found Filipinos split in their attitude toward Laurel, many believing he had been the victim of circumstances and only had tried to make the best of a bad situation.

In contrast, Filipinos almost universally disliked Aquino whose sharp tongue attacks upon America and complete adherence to Japanese policy branded him as a fifth columnist.

Laurel and Aquino presumably will be returned to the Philippines as soon as possible to face trial there along with Jorge B. Vargas, puppet ambassador to Japan.

Now Handed 25

The new arrests brought to 25 the number of accused war criminals and quislings thus far apprehended.

General Homma, who pompously accepted the surrender of General Jonathan M. Wainwright and then perished or perpetrated the Bataan "death march," surrendered without protest when black uniformedgendarmes went to his Tokyo residence.

Kuroda, who ruled the Philippines with an iron hand after he succeeded Homma, and Ueda and Hasimoto were arrested in their homes in the Tokyo area without resistance.

Earlier today the Eleventh Corps Provost Marshal at Yokohama took the following into custody:

More Accused

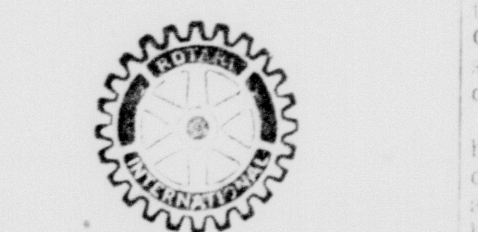

Capt. Tokuda, a Jap doctor accused of conducting bizarre medical experiments on war prisoners resulting in their death at the Shimogawa hospital prison;

Col. Suzuki, commanding officer at Shimogawa accused of atrocities in Dutch or Radio Tokyo.

Dr. Thien Maing, puppet Burmese ambassador to Japan;

Aung Then, military attache of the puppet Burmese embassy and organizer of the Burma independence corps;

Pratap Mehendra, president of the "Arvan army," who was the Indian quiling organizer in Japan.

AUTO INDUSTRY IS FACING TIEUP

industry, from coast to coast, was threatened with complete stoppage.

"This is Showdown"

A UAW-CIO official said "this is it—this is the showdown."

Walter Reuther, international vice president of the union, made the statement Friday while the international executive board was meeting in Flint, Mich.

Meantime, management blamed "irresponsible labor outbreaks" for the crisis. Henry Ford II, executive vice president of the vast Ford Motor company empire in blaming labor, said his company could not operate without parts held up by strikes.

The huge General Motors Corp., simultaneously was threatened by the UAW with a new and revolutionary strike weapon, unless it cedes "with union demands for the wage increase in both the automotive and aircraft industries."

Detroit, Sept. 15.—The world's largest labor union today put the finishing touches on detailed plans for a strike against the largest and wealthiest corporation in the world.

These plans were revealed at a meeting at which a Detroit Times reporter was the only newspaper man present.

More than 100 UAW-CIO members representing General Motors Corporation plants from New York to California will resume their strategy conference today. Yesterday they agreed to strike all General Motors plants unless a 30 per cent wage increase is granted.

The proposed strike will not be settled according to Walter Reuther, UAW-CIO international vice president until General Motors also agrees to a uniform scale of pay throughout all departments and plants.

FLINT, Mich., Sept. 15.—(INS)—R. J. Thomas, president of the UAW-CIO said today that the union has not "officially" decided on General Motors or any other plant for closing down to obtain the union's new wage goal of a 30 per cent increase.

Walter Reuther, UAW vice-president in charge of the GM division, told a meeting of local presidents in Detroit that GM would provide the test for industry.

Thomas said that a special six-man committee had been named by the executive board for official determination of the plant to be selected and this committee includes Reuther.

"We hope it will not be necessary to close any plants," Thomas stated.

Shot In Bathroom

Coroner Ed C. Lowry told the court Mrs. McKinney told him shortly after the shooting Wendell had threatened her as he was taking a bath and she had gone to a nearby bedroom obtained a gun and returned to the bathroom to shoot her husband.

Dr. William E. Biddle, psychiatrist at the Warren State Hospital told the jury Mrs. McKinney was in a state of "amnesia" when she shot McKinney.

Dr. John J. O'Donnell, Erie psychiatrist rebutted this and said she was thinking clearly at the time of the shooting.

The plane left the Kansas City airport at 12:15 a. m. shortly after having been taken over by a new crew which replaced the men who had just flown the plane from Newark, N. J.

Witnesses reported that within a minute after the plane left the field an engine was heard to sputter and the craft plunged sharply earthward. It crashed on the Burlington railroad tracks and bounced into mist-high weeds in an adjoining field.

Wreckage was strewn over three acres as the main section of the fuselage burst into flames.

JAPANESE NEWS AGENCY ALLOWED TO RESUME

been receiving instructions from the Japanese government.

Col. Donald Hoover, chief of civil censorship in Japan until the office of counter-intelligence is called in, outlined to nine leaders of the Japanese press that Domei is being permitted to resume operations "under censorship and on sufferance."

Editor Warned

At the same time, the editor of the English language Nippon Times was warned that unless he stopped printing editorials "deleterious to public tranquility and irritating to United States forces," publication of his paper would be suspended.

The temporary shutdown of Domei left no doubt that the Allied supreme commander intends to rule Japan with a firm hand, and that the Japanese government will be permitted to function only to forestall "social chaos, disease and starvation."

The first phase of the occupation of Japan, MacArthur emphasized in his "no kid glove" statement, "is coupled with the paramount consideration" of rescuing Allied prisoners still in filthy Jap camps.

Joint army and navy rescue teams are speeding their search of the Jap home islands for these camps. Third Fleet headquarters of Admiral William F. Halsey announced today that 864 of an estimated 3,000 Allied internees had been removed up to midnight Thursday from three camps in the Sendai-Kamashi area of northern Honshu.

Third Fleet headquarters also announced that fleet units under Commander Roger Simpson brought 749 repatriates to Yokohama yesterday, including 586 Americans, 91 Dutch, 44 Australians and 28 British, including two women.

Sens. George (D) Ga. Lucas (D) Ill., Brewster (R) Maine and Ferguson (R) Mich.; Reps. Cooper (D) Tenn., Clark (D) N. C., Murphy (D) Pa., Gearhart (R) Calif., and Keefe (R) Wis.

All are lawyers and several, notably Keefe and Gearhart, are former prosecuting attorneys.

Feeling was strong among the new committeemen for "prompt" action to get the inquiry rolling under a competent staff as soon as possible.

Sen. Ferguson said he did not see how the investigation would be completed without calling Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Gen. Walter C. Short, the 1941 Pearl Harbor commanders, as well as Admiral James O. Richardson, who was removed from command of the Pacific fleet and replaced by Kimmel.

Brewster added that he thought the testimony of General MacArthur in command in the Philippines at the time of the attack there, along with other Pacific area commanders would be "extremely pertinent."

"During the war," he said, "we didn't take much of MacArthur's time, but I heard that he may be coming back soon. I think the public would like to have all the light possible shed on the subject."

"There are no negotiations and the public should not be permitted to gain a false impression."

"The supreme commander will dictate orders to the Japanese government and will not negotiate with it."

Negotiations take place among equals and the Japanese are not to be led to believe they already have regained the respect of the world or the status whereby they negotiate over orders of the supreme commander.

Warns All Newspapers

Japanese language newspapers were not represented in the group which Hoover addressed. They have been submitting proof sheets to American censorship and so far as is known they have not violated the spirit of General MacArthur's previous order.

Hoover warned all Jap newspapers, however, that any violation of MacArthur's September 10th directive will result in suspension of publication.

In reading the riot act to the Japanese press leaders, Hoover declared freedom of the press was "very dear to the supreme commander and one of the freedoms for which the Allies fought."

However, he emphasized the Japanese demonstrated that the directive's latitude "cannot be entrusted to you since you have revealed a lack of good faith in handling news."

The group which sat silent as Hoover verbally lashed them included Inosuke Furuno, president of Domei; Tasio Kawai, president of the Jap board of information; Shoji Hasegawa, chief of Domei's overseas bureau; and Hachiro Onishi, chief of radio Tokyo's bureau.

In the meantime, Chinese Premier T. V. Soong arrived in London to stay a few days. He immediately scheduled several talks with the foreign ministers.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Nation Must Face Political Realities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Shortly before he left the London meeting of the council of foreign ministers, Secretary of State James F. Byrnes sat down and added up the lump sum amounts that foreign governments are hoping to obtain during the coming year from the United States.

The total was $15,000,000,000. At the same time that he told of this little venture in addition he recounted something that happened to him a day or two before.

While he was going up the elevator in his hotel, someone tapped him on the shoulder. It was the ambassador of one of the smaller European powers.

"Mr. Secretary," the ambassador said with a feverish look, "what about that loan we want?"

Facing Difficulties
"The secretary told this little tale with a humorous glint in his eyes, to illustrate the difficulties of his position at this moment. Those difficulties are indeed very great.

We are confronted with an impoverished Europe which looks to a seemingly rich America for a way out. There are some parallels with the situation that existed after 1918.

The aftermath then was a deep resentment of the U. S. A.—the kind of feeling you have about a distant relative who goes on enjoying his wealth while you struggle to keep your family alive.

This time the same elements are present, but greatly accentuated. Just when we need to collaborate most closely with western Europe, the elements of a major explosion are scattered freely about.

Must Understand
I would like to try in this and another column or two to explore the attitudes on both sides of the Atlantic. If we are to have anything like a peaceful world, we must try to understand the worries of our neighbors and what they mean for us.

Men like Byrnes who must study the European requests and do some thinking about them are overwhelmed by the size of the problem. They must measure these requests against certain realities that Europeans sometimes do not seem to take into account.

First comes the present financial position of the United States. The national debt during the war has come close to the three hundred billion mark.

Staggering Sum
For a nation that, until very recent times, had no more than a normal debt this is a staggering sum. Interest service on it alone is more than the entire federal budget of thirty years ago.

Americans both in and out of government are worrying about how it can be scaled down to at least reasonable dimensions. They want to know whether the advance of new billions to Europe will not mean a further jump in the national debt. They think about the value of the bonds they have bought and the money they have in buying savings banks.

All this is directly reflected in the national realities on Capitol Hill. Members of congress are fearful of more deficit financing. The isolationists and the anti-nationalists have a ready-made issue.

They're beginning to shout that we can keep the atomic bomb and do as we damned please anywhere in the world.

Political Realities
But quite apart from this lunatic fringe, there are more fundamental political realities that have to be faced. A quick case in point is the matter of giving money to what you can please everyone, or almost everyone, by lowering taxes and ending rationing. You can make those gestures if you don't bother too much about the future or about the rest of the world. You're beginning to hear that kind of campaign noise from both sides of the political fence.

These are realities which confront the president and the men around him who must make the decisions. They are realities which Europe in its misery and uncertainty seldom considers.

The British case is in today's headlines. They have a set of realities that we over here tend too often to ignore.

How should a hostess introduce a caller who has dropped in unexpectedly when there are about nine guests in the dining room? Should he be taken around the room and introduced to each other guest individually? I have heard that this is not proper?

Answer: When the group is large and scattered, do not take a newcomer around the room and introduce him to each person, since this would be awkward.

After you greet him, introduce him to the few persons standing near you and later when you have an opportunity present him to the others as he happens to be near them. However, a group of nine is not too large for individual introductions, especially since they all would probably be seated near one another and sharing the same general conversation. Here is the simplest form to be used in such a situation:

"Miss Just-Arrived (name), Miss Nearest Member of the Group. If it is Mr. Just-Arrived, he should be introduced to Miss Nearest Member. The names of the other guests should then be given in the order in which they are standing or sitting without shuffling out the women first."

Question: Is the use of visiting cards proper when sending gifts to persons?

Answer: Yes but the sender's title and surname are usually crossed out with a pen, leaving only the Christian name when the recipient is an intimate friend.

Question: At a church wedding how does an usher know where to seat guests?

Answer: The usher should ask each guest whether she belongs on the bride's or the groom's side and if she is "in the ribbons" he then accordingly leads her to a pew.

Present your problem to Miss Markel who will mail personal replies to questions from readers in-house stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Somebody Owes Money On $200,000 Loan Deal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—PROBABLY, some day, the Treasury will announce its decision concerning the tax liability, if any, of Mr. John Hartford, of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, who, after talking with President Roosevelt, loaned his son Elliott $200,000 and Elliott, for whom at the request of his father, Mr. Jesse Jones settled the loan for $4,000, which he paid out of his own pocket and for which he has not been reimbursed.

Why the Treasury is unable more promptly to decide this matter is hard to explain. Many weeks ago it had all the facts in detailed reports from Mr. Hartford, Mr. Jones and Elliott's tax expert. Clearly, somebody owes the Government. Or, at least, so it seems to most laymen. If Mr. Hartman is not entitled to deduct the $196,000 he is on on the transaction as a bad debt, then it would seem that it was a gift to Elliott and that Mr. Hartman owes the Government the gift tax. But if he is entitled to deduct the $196,000 as a bad debt, then it would apparently be income for Elliott, who would owe the Government the tax.

OF COURSE, Elliott may have lost the whole $200,000 in his business and claim it as a deduction, too. But it does not seem possible that Mr. Hartford could be permitted to deduct the same money from their separate returns. That would be to double-count the Government in a pretty big way and to make real suckers of the taxpayers, generally. Here is a transaction in which one man is asked $20,000 and the other behind $196,000. To repeat, obviously somebody owes the Government. The question before the Treasury is which?

THIS MAY seem a trivial matter to some, but there is a vast amount of public interest in it all over the country and there is a lot more at stake than the money. For one thing, the public is interested in knowing whether the losses in this transaction, which was creditable neither to the lender, the borrower nor the borrower's father, was then President, due to be borne by the Government, which means the other taxpayers. The amount may seem small, but the principle isn't. For another, the decision will either enhance or diminish public confidence in the courage and impartiality of the Treasury in tax matters. For another, it will help establish certain facts about the late President's essential to a correct estimate of him. All that is important. It would be unfortunate, indeed, if the decision were such as to justify the idea that influence or politics or personalities had entered into it. It is certainly desirable that it be clearly on merit and of a character to convince the people as a whole that the principles in this case, including the tax expert, formerly a Treasury official, have not had room for any different treatment than would have been given any other taxpayer.

THERE is now a suggestion that in the end the buck may be passed to the Court of Tax Appeals and that Mr. Hartford will be permitted to take his $196,000 deduction and nothing at all will be done about Elliott's $200,000 profit. The theory that he lost that in his business. Or they may after the Hartford decision, take Elliott's returns under further consideration and then indefinitely postpone everything, with the idea that the public does not care. Certainly, that would make the Government the loser. The goal probably is to end the case but it could seem an unsatisfactory end and undesirable from the Treasury and the taxpayer's viewpoint. It also seems a bit before the whole shoddy affair is finally dismissed. Elliott should not answer the question so many minds to stir, why if he needed this money and could not get it from his father, who was well over a million dollars, or his mother, who had made much more than half a million in her last ten years or his brother, Junior, who cleared up very handsomely in the insurance business, or his brother, Franklin, Jr., who married a du Pont?

IN OTHER words, why didn't he go to his rich family which easily could have put the money on, instead of to rich anti-New Dealers when he did not know and who lent him the money solely because he was the son of the President, whom they had reason to believe wanted the loan made? And with all the money in the Roosevelt family, people are entitled to know more about why the late President let his son default on his loans and then got his subordinate, the Federal Loan Administrator, to fix them up at 2 cents on the dollar. Does Elliott still claim it an "infamous lie" to suggest that his father helped him in his financial transactions or does he admit the truth of the sworn statement of Mr. Jones and Mr. Hartford? There seems slight chance now that these questions will be answered either in court or committee. And certainly the Treasury in its decision will stick clear of them. Yet one would think Mr. Roosevelt's family and friends would insist upon answering them in detail. Not to insist seems a poor way to defend Mr. Roosevelt's character. This is not a matter of "sneaking" a dead man. It involves the truth about a President of the United States. And that concerns all of us.

Byrnes Must Commute To Foreign Minister Council
Post War Patent Rights Question Is Difficult One
Showdown Battle Is Seen On Employment

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is expected to commute to London from Washington during the Council of Foreign Ministers in the British capital. The meetings are expected to last for several weeks.

The pressure of his work in Washington, including reorganization of the state department and administration of OWI and CIA, has forced Byrnes to envisage a plan of operations which he hopes will be acceptable to the other foreign ministers.

He would have the various questions taken up by the government deputies, of which each delegation will have one. Those would be the intricate problems of each peace treaty—with Italy, Finland, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria, which are first on the council's agenda.

Unsettled points would go to the foreign ministers to reach a form of agreement under the Byrnes formula, and then Byrnes and other ministers could commute between London and their capitals.

The formula is similar to that followed at Potsdam, where the "Big Three" were able to reach numerous agreements and settle complicated questions after a long range in three weeks of work.

Some officials foresee considerable difficulty in setting the patent rights question which has come out of the past war. These minutes would include atomic energy, oil, and other matters.

Undoubtedly, there are other questions which have not been so prominently mentioned and which may not have been developed to play the emotional roles of these weapons all of which have revolutionary post-war prospects.

Although these have been developed to the greatest perfection in the United States, Britain has not been hesitant in making known its claims to patents of these weapons. It is said that Britain's development was far ahead of that in the United States since Britain, because of her proximity to Germany, knew that more than visual and sound warfare.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MEERS, Ph. D.

BLUSHING PROVES EMBARRASSING

Many letters come to me concerning blushing. Most of them from boys and young men, some from girls and an occasional mother writes of blushing in herself. One mother says she has been miserable all her life because she cannot talk to strangers without a burning feeling in her neck and face, both of which grow very red in a flash.

You're weary of blushing as the most terrible affliction they can have each assuming that he is the only one in the world so afflicted and that no one else can be so unhappy. Some blushers say that they despair of life itself.

Soldier Brother Is Freed From Jap Camp

Bataan Prisoner At Manchukuo Tells Of War's End And Delight At Liberation

Mrs. Frank Peebles, 363 Neshannock avenue, has received a letter forwarded to her by her mother, written by the former's brother, Pvt. Fitzhugh Brincefield of the 17th Ordnance Co. (Arm'd), Hotel Prisoner of War Camp, Mukden, Manchukuo.

In part he says, "On Aug. 15, at 10 a. m. the air raid sirens sounded the alert, and 15 minutes later sounded all clear. The Japanese informed us it was all a mistake, but we believed the Russians were close. At 12:30 p. m. we were suddenly called to camp, where there was much excitement among the Japanese. Immediately the Japs made preparations for some one to leave out of camp, and we figured our high ranking officers would be taken by plane to Japan, and we would follow by foot, as transportation here is quite limited. Most of us were going to try and escape at the first opportunity on the road, for we knew we could never survive another 'March of Death' like the one we made on Bataan in the Philippines, which you have probably heard about and take it from me it was a horrible nightmare, one that a civilized person finds hard to believe, but it is all true. At 7 a. m. August 16, I said goodbye to General Weaver, commanding officer of the tank outfit. He was pecking and getting ready to leave. At 10:30 while hanging out my shirt to dry, I saw a big bomber (thought it was Jap) flying over the airport near here, and 16 paratroopers dropped. At 7 p. m. the Japs brought in six Americans, and not being treated like prisoners, we jumped to the conclusion the war was over, and when we contacted them next day they confirmed this. The other ten chutes were supplies for their radio sending sets to contact American headquarters, after arriving here. Would love to be home for Thanksgiving as it would be the greatest day of my life. This bunch of men have really learned what it means to have Old Glory flying over their heads. Well, Mom, my health is good and hope yours is the same."

Pvt. Brincefield has been in service 4 years and overseas 4 years, was taken prisoner at Bataan, and later to Manchukuo when General Wainwright was taken there. Fitzhugh is a son of Mrs. M. C. Brincefield of Richmond, Va.

public sentiment and indicating an attitude of non-cooperation in the big job of providing postwar employment.

If the President's invitation is accepted in good faith by all concerned, the proposed conference could be a major factor in meeting the complicated problems of reconversion. Many of these problems have as their crux the relations between management and labor. There are matters which cannot be settled by mere legislation or edicts of federal agencies—matters which in the long run must be settled by the principals themselves. Discreet and impartial use of government powers might help in their adjustment, but the government alone can accomplish nothing in the way of enforcing harmony.

The intelligent, foresighted and sincere leaders in industry and labor can do far more in frank and friendly conference to work out sound industrial relationships than Congress or Federal agencies. Considerable and impartial members of the government can give practical aid to such a conference, and the President himself, representing the public interest, should prove helpful as a harmonizer of differences. In view of the situation brought about by the sudden ending of the war the meeting should be held at the earliest practical time.

THE GUSTATORY SENSE
That is a pretty big word to practice on. It means the sense of taste. Taste is an important proposition. If food tastes good it will be eaten. If it tastes bad, no one wants it. No matter how much nourishment it has.

Cooking is a very important art. Foods may be made to taste better. Foods which taste bad may be made to taste good. Some foods are worthless except for the good taste. They may be combined with valuable but tasting foods and the combination is good. Vegetables should be eaten both raw and cooked. As many different kinds as possible should be eaten. They help each other.

Temple Israel Services Monday For Yom Kippur

Monday, September 17, Observance For Day Of Repentance, Yom Kippur

The Jewish Day of Atonement and Repentance—Yom Kippur, will be observed as a day of prayer and fasting on Monday, September 17. As is customary in the synagogue, the eve of the holiday will be marked by a religious service which derives its name, Kol Nidre, from the opening prayer for the occasion.

The prayer for the Day of Atonement emphasizes the fact that men and nations may be heir to all the technologies and still violate every dictate of the law of God. One of the great teachings of Yom Kippur, which is of special interest in these days of stress on democratic ideals, is symbolized in the reading of the Book of Jonah with its perennial emphasis upon the equality of all men before God.

Services at Temple Israel will be conducted by Rabbi Karl Rosenthal, Ph. D., of New York City.

Sunday evening services will start at 7:30 o'clock with the Kol Nidre services. The sermon subject will be "Promise and Fulfillment."

Monday morning services, Yom Kippur, the sermon will be "The Foundation of the Jewish Faith." Memorial services will follow, the topic to be "The Problem of Evil."

WASHINGTON REPORT

ings must be had against approaching aircraft.

The jet propulsion used in America's jet plan is claimed to have been based on a model developed in England, although American developers may challenge this assertion.

Both nations have proclaimed that it was the pooling of information which brought about the atomic bomb. Insofar as these inventions were developed for war-time purposes, Britain probably will charge her contribution off to lend-lease. But if, as seems certain, they help revolutionize the post-war world, a tangle of claims over royalties may result.

Liberals and conservatives are braced for a showdown fight in the Senate and the full employment bill which, standing alone is little more than a lofty statement of policy.

Besides statements about unemployment and preserving private enterprise, the bill sets up a joint committee to study the employment horizon and report to Congress.

The hot issue lies in the policy statements. They would put Congress on record as saying that "it is the responsibility of the federal government to invest and expend as may be needed to assure continuing full employment."

Conservatives are afraid that such a guarantee would point the easy way to a vast public works program—needed or not. A public works-minded administration, they fear, would come up with ominous reports about looming unemployment. Then great pressure could be exerted on Congress, already on record on the subject, to take steps to provide jobs.

Liberals are ready to fight tooth-and-nail to get Congress on record on federal responsibility for jobs. They believe that such a commitment by Congress plus the joint committee to foresee employment declines, would bring earlier action to forestall depression.

Miss Marsha Dell McAnlis is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moore in Beaver. Mrs. David Hoover and daughter Nancy, Mrs. Lester Hammond and daughter Melony of New Castle called on Mrs. Robert Harman recently. Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson and family of Bessemer were called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Seltzer.

Li Daniel C. Shiderly, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Shiderly, arrived in New York last Wednesday from Zurich. He had previously seen active duty in the Pacific and Hawaii before being sent to the European theater where he served in England, Germany and France. He has been in the service for four and a half years. After receiving his orders in North Carolina he flew immediately to Los Angeles, Calif., to join his wife, who resides there.

In a most interesting letter recently from Sgt. Alfred A. McDowell he tells of spending an afternoon and evening with his brother-in-law, Lt. Daniel C. Shiderly, both Sgt. McDowell and Lt. Shiderly were then stationed in France about 130 miles apart. This was the first time in 2½ years that the boys had seen each other. A few days later Lt. Shiderly left for the United States and Sgt. McDowell was sent to Germany where he will be stationed temporarily. He has been overseas two years.

Mrs. Alfred McDowell and son Jackie have returned home after spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDowell of Charleston.

HANDLE DDT WITH CARE: IN THREE FORMS

DDT is a poison and should be handled as such. When available, DDT will be marketed in three forms and in varying concentrations for use in killing insects.

DDT is going to market in three forms. One is a water-dispersible compound that varies from 20 to 50 per cent strength and requires diluting. Another is marketed with DDT dissolved in oil and is usually 3 or 5 per cent concentration. The third form is a dust, with DDT mixed with a carrier and often containing a fungicide as well, and the dust is from 1 to 5 per cent concentration.

For certain insects the new material has been helpful, but against other insect pests, DDT has failed to show the effectiveness of many standard insecticides. These must avoid careless handling of DDT since the paralyzing influence observed on insects might also result to humans or animals.

When applying DDT in any form, all feed or food should be covered, all flies, lice, fleas, beetles, and leafhoppers. But DDT shows little promise in the gardens, since it has little effect on most aphids, the Mexican bean beetle, various spiders, mites, and ants.

New Cars Are Rolling, Most Of Them On Trucks

Off the assembly lines come the first post-war automobiles—not a great host of them—but enough to guarantee that it won't be long until they will be available to all.

But from the assembly line to the dealer's floor—that's the gap the motor truck industry fills—for most of the new cars rolling across the country just now are being hauled on trucks.

The reason is simple. Folks are in a hurry to get back of the wheel of a new car—manufacturer and dealer alike want to satisfy that longing—osthey use motor trucks to speed delivery of the shiny new cars.

Yanks Who Caught Von Papen Tell Of German's Capture

Arrive At Boston With Some 8,155 Veterans From European Theatre

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Two modest army sergeants, who captured the elusive German diplomat, Franz von Papen, came home Friday aboard the navy transport USS Wakefield, along with 8,155 veterans of the European theater.

They are Staff Sgt. Stephen A. Winko of McKees Rocks, Pa., and Staff Sgt. High G. Frederick of Adamsville, Ala., who surprised the much-ought Von Papen at lunch on his state near Stockholm, Germany.

The two men, members of the 7th airborne division, said their capture was all in the day's work. They had received no commendation and didn't expect it.

Tell of Capture Explaining how the catch was made, Winko said:

"We dropped to earth at Stockholm and took over an air raid shelter for our command post. Right off the bat, I heard one fellow speaking good English. I also got to talking to a Polish captive and after a bit of promising that he now was a wife was able to learn the identity of the gent that spoke English."

"It was Von Papen's son. We dug around and found that the Von Papen family had a hunting lodge a few miles back in the mountains and Staff Frederick and I took off on a trip in a jeep."

"We walked right in and there was Franz, himself, having lunch with his daughter. We placed him under arrest and he then invited us to have a bite to eat. We declined but told him to go ahead and finish. We brought Von Papen back to town, turned him over to our superiors and then went back to work. It was all just a nice afternoon job."

Suggestions For Overseas Boxes

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—(INS)—If you expect to send a gift box to a soldier overseas for next Christmas, Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe had some suggestions to make today.

General McAuliffe is the 47-year-old division leader who made the front page last Christmas season by replying "nuts" to the German demand for his surrender at Bastogne during the "Battle of the Bulge."

Many Diseases Found In Japan

Health Survey Is Made Of Northern Honshu By U. S. Medical Officers

ABOARD THE USS PANAMINT Omimoto, Sept. 15.—(INS)—A health survey of northern Honshu communities conducted by American medical officers showed today that Japanese soldiers and civilians in the area were suffering from many diseases.

Examination of the disease-ridden countryside was directed by Lt. Comdr. W. P. McNamara of Jackson Heights, Long Island, N. Y., senior medical officer aboard Vice Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher's north Pacific fleetship, the USS Panamint.

The doctor said typhus was brought to the area in 1943 by forced laborers imported from Korea. Typhoid and dysentery, he found, were general throughout civilian settlements and tuberculosis was common among both military personnel and civilians.

Trachoma was widespread among school children but troops in the Aomori area were heaviest hit by the eye infection. Other sporadic diseases, attributed largely to heavy infestations of the flies and lice, were discovered, including diphtheria, spinal meningitis and smallpox.

Troops and civilians throughout the entire inspected area were without modern sanitation facilities of any kind.

Tigers-Senators Starting Crucial Series In Capital

Two Games Today In Washington May Help Tigers Pad Lead In Torrid Race

CARDINALS LOSE TWO TO DODGERS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The battle between the Tigers and the Senators for the American League pennant will achieve a dramatic climax in the five-game series between the two rivals which opens in Washington today with a double-header.

Dutch Leonard and Mickey Haefner are scheduled to pitch for Washington, with Hal Newhouser and Stubby Overmire doing the throwing for Detroit.

The setting is perfect. Only half a game separates the rivals. And the Nats have then admirers all seemed up by the courageous manner in which they pulled a 6 to 5 win over Cleveland out of the fire last night.

The Tigers beat the A's thanks to an acrobatic drive by Bob Maier who was on third base when a squeeze play was ordered. Catcher Buddy Bosh of the A's called for a pitch-out and Maier apparently was a dead duck as he tore for the plate. However, he managed to elude Bosh with a miraculous slide, with Bosh protesting the play so vociferously that he was tossed out of the game.

Tigers Edge Macks
Maier's feat enabled Les Mueller of the Tigers to register a brilliant two-hit 1 to 0 decision over young Dick Fowler in the six-inning contest.

Johnny Miller, brought up from Toledo by the St. Louis Browns, beat the Boston Red Sox to five hits and beat them 4 to 1.

Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals outfoxed himself—nearly by losing the National League pennant. By losing the Brooklyn Dodgers to play the Cards in two eight-inning games on a muddy field. This peeved the Brooks because it meant they would have to sit up in a train to Chicago all night. So they pinned the Cards' ears back twice, 7 to 3 and 6 to 1. The winning and losing pitchers were Lombardi and Hal Gregg and George Dockins and Red Barrett, respectively.

Cubs-Phillies Split
This month's blow left the Cardinals 3½ games behind the Cubs, who split a twin bill with the Phillies. The Quakers took the opener, beating Paul Derringer 4 to 3. In the second game, called after the first inning on account of darkness, Claude Passeau blanked the Phils 6 to 0.

The New York Giants ended their six-game losing streak by nosing out Cincinnati 7 to 5.

Other teams were idle.

Joe DiMaggio Is Given Discharge

Not Likely That DiMaggio Will Join Yanks This Year But Will Play In 1946

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Sept. 14.—(INS)—Joe DiMaggio, former New York Yankee outfielder, was discharged from the Army today at the AAF's Don Co-Sar hospital in St. Petersburg.

Medical officers said DiMaggio had stomach ulcers.

The former American league slugger will leave for New York in a few days to confer with Yankee officials before proceeding to his home in San Francisco.

DiMaggio said he will not play ball this season since only three weeks remain on the major league schedule.

The ex-Yankee hitter was an Army staff sergeant and had served for nearly three years. He recently returned from overseas assignment with the Seventh Air Force in the Pacific.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

AMONG new head football coaches in the nation's collegiate picture this year are Ed McKeever at Cornell, Hugh Devore at Notre Dame, at Nebraska, Bobby Dodd at Georgia Tech, Bert LaBrucherie at U. C. L. A. and Phil Sobow at Washington State. Elvin (Buster) Adams, who has hit 22 home runs to lead the Cardinals in that department, has been in pro ball for 10 years. He began his career as a third baseman with Springfield in the Western Association and moved up to Sacramento, then Columbus, the Cardinals, Rochester, Sacramento, Cardinals, the Phils and finally the Cards again. He hit 27 homers for Sacramento in 1942 and may surpass that mark this year.

Clemson began playing football in 1896. Only undefeated team was in 1900. Jeff Carlin, case coach, is handling the Case football team this year while Ray Ride, head mentor, is in Europe on a government-sponsored sports tour. Ohio State has had three undefeated seasons. It seats 85,753. This is Pennsylvania's 69th football season. Charlie Moore, quarterback on the Bucknell team, is a sports writer for his home-town newspaper. Ohio State has 905 varsity athletes in service. Only two of seven tackles on the Detroit Lions' pro squad weigh under 220 pounds. Great Lakes' forward wall averages nearly 200 pounds. Several days ago a sports report stated Earl Jordan, out-doorman and a reported aspirant for the job as game protector of this county, was a World War I veteran. A report received later said Jordan is a World War II veteran.

Johnny Carik, former captain of Ne-Ca-Hi floor team, which was the championship team of 1936, has been honorably discharged from the U. S. Army following three and one-half years service with the amphibious engineers. Mike Bobosky, former official of the City Baseball League, has been honorably discharged from the U. S. Army finance division. Second Lieut. Lindy Lauro who starred for Ne-Ca-Hi gridders in 1941 is playing football today with the Camp MacDill air field at Nashville, Tenn., according to word received by his father, Frank, Nevell avenue.

Shenango High School Wildcats football team opened the 1945 season at Freedom in the rain on Friday afternoon and dropped a 27 to 0 decision to a bigger and more experienced eleven.

Coach Eddie Nahas attributes the loss to the poor play in the middle of the Shenango line, the linemen failing to give the kicker protection and being outcharged by Freedom in the entire first-half in which Freedom ran up 20 of its points.

Score on Blocked Punt
The first Freedom touchdown came in the first period when Freedom's right end, Winston, blocked a Shenango punt by Owce and recovered it, running 15 yards for a marker. The second Freedom touchdown in the first period was scored by Trettle, the left-end, who scored after a 50 yard drive down the field. Freedom tallied one in the second period when Mabin, the big fullback, ran the ball over from the 2-yard line.

Freedom was held scoreless in the third period, but in the final period Smith, right-half, skirted end and raced 19 yards behind line interference for a touchdown. Moss made all of the conversion but the first one good for extra-points, by placement.

Tanner on Sidelines
Shenango played minus its star Charles Tanner, fullback, who was out of the lineup with a pulled muscle. He will be in shape for the game next week with Zellenople, Coach Nahas announced.

Best in the Shenango lineup yesterday was Paul Tanner and Harold "Stretch" Mayberry, the two Shenango ends, and Perkins, the big left tackle. Coach Nahas used six of his reserves and they played fine ball while in the game, giving promise of developing.

Mars Defeats Union 33 To 0

Eddie Veccharella Scores All Four Mars Touchdowns, Register Three Safeties

Mars High Planets began the quest in defense of their Tri-County Athletic league football championship at Union High field Friday afternoon by defeating Union High 33 to 0 in a steady downpour of rain. Eddie Veccharella, the Mars left half, was the outstanding star in the game, scoring all four of the Mars touchdowns.

The game was unusual in the fact that Mars High, tallied six points on three safeties, a thing seldom seen in football where a team scores that many safeties. Mars ran up nine first downs to four for Union.

Veccharella ran for his first touchdown about three minutes after the game started. Union kicked off to Mars and after a morn down the field in which Mars ran up three first downs, Veccharella ran over from the Union 21-yard line. Mars kicked off to Union and Union fumbled on the second play and Mars recovered and culminated in another steady drive that culminated in Veccharella running the ball over from the Union 23.

The first period ended 12 to 0. Shortly after the second period began Veccharella again dashed 35 yards for his third touchdown. Mars scored a safety when Union was backed up against the goal line and was unable to kick off to Union. Mars had the ball on the Union 1-yard line when the first half ended with the tally 22 to 0.

In the third period Mars was held scoreless, but several times Veccharella and Stang broke away for long gains only to be downed before reaching the goal line. Mars scored two more safeties and Veccharella's fourth touchdown in the final period after an other steady march down the field after taking a Union High punt. Stang and Shenot made the extra point.

Play Polard Next
For the Coach Polard team the pairing of Biggie Conti and Reddabaugh was good on the defense with Wallace, Zelina, Cook and Robinson, lettermen last year, showing their experience to good advantage.

Rain made passing almost impossible, but Mars completed one for a short gain. Adding Veccharella in his scoring were Stang and Reinfrew with short and long passes. Union High goes to Poland, O. next Friday for their second game of the season.

Yom Kippur Services At Tifereth Israel

Jewish Day Of Atonement Will Be Observed Monday, September 17, As Day Of Fast

Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement, occurs this year on Sunday night, September 17. It is observed by those of the Jewish faith everywhere as a day of prayer, repentance and fasting.

The eve of the holiday is marked by a religious service—Kol Nidre, because of an ancient and beautiful prayer which is chanted on this occasion asking for forgiveness even for the sins which were committed unwittingly and unwillingly.

The prayers read on this day are for forgiveness for sins in recognition of the doctrine of individual responsibility for the act committed by the petitioner. Purification comes only through realization that each must make his own amends by prayer, fasting and good deeds, and the sincerity of his purpose to purify his life is the measure of his forgiveness.

The Book of Jonah, with its emphasis on the equality of all men before God, is read on this day, stressing the interest in democratic ideals and the brotherhood of man. Most congregations hold a memorial service in memory of those who have passed on since last Memorial Day on the afternoon of the Day of Atonement.

Memorial services consists of the magnificent beautiful "Kaddish," a prayer which is read in memory of the righteous of every nation and every creed. This is in keeping with the Jewish religion which stresses the belief that "the righteous of every nation have a portion in the world to come."

Rabbi Hyman Krash is in charge of the services at Tifereth Israel synagogue. Sunday evening services start at 6:30 o'clock with the chanting of the Kol Nidre services. Monday morning Yom Kippur services begin at 8 o'clock. Following memorial services will be conducted Monday at 11 a. m.

TO BUY EQUIPMENT

At the meeting of the county commissioners on Friday morning, County Controller Andrew W. Dodds was instructed to advertise for a complete set of addressograph equipment for use in the county commissioners' office.

Earl R. Wimer chairman of the board believes the installation of an addressograph machine would cut down the clerical work necessary in entering assessments, sending out tax statements and a number of other jobs.

In a test of the speed of one of the machines Mr. Wimer had a page of entries made out. He then had a stenographer copy the same list and checked the time. The addressograph took nineteen seconds. The stenographer took twenty-two minutes, and this time seemed to be excellent for the typing required. The cost of the equipment will be about $10,000 it is estimated but it thought the savings in clerical hire will more than offset the cost in a couple of years.

ALBEN BARKLEY

Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley, who is expected to preside over the joint congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster, is one of the leading stalwarts of the Democratic party.

A staunch supporter of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt since the early days of the New Deal, the senator from Kentucky proved last year that he is no "yes man."

He seized the country by the ears on Feb. 23, 1944, when he angrily resigned the senate leadership post he had held since 1937 in a rift with President Roosevelt.

In a bitter 45-minute senate speech he accused the language of a Roosevelt tax bill was as "calculated and deliberate assault upon the legislative integrity of every member of congress."

The senate cheered almost as one man, and congress promptly acceded to his urgings to override the tax veto "if it had any self-respect left."

Barkley was subsequently selected majority leader and immediately was hailed as presidential timber.

The senator from Paducah began his political career in 1903 as county prosecutor and county judge. He became congressman in 1913 and senator in 1927.

DeGaulle Maintains Plan Which Favors Rural Vote Strength

PARIS, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle served notice Friday on French Leftist groups for the second time within a fortnight that he is determined to maintain his stand as regards the voting plan in next month's elections.

He reiterated his stand in an answer to the left-wing workers' federation which he stirred last week by refusing to see their delegation and discuss a revised plan which would give city workers more strength in the proposed new assembly.

It is known that Gen. De Gaulle's proportional representation plan is considered by Leftists as favoring rural voters against industrial centers.

A cabinet meeting today is expected to work out a compromise giving cities such as Paris and Marseille a broader representation in the new assembly.

Fairless Declares Wages Cannot Be Raised At Present

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(INS)—Wages can not be increased in the steel industry at this time, in the opinion of Benjamin F. Fairless, United States Steel Corporation president.

Fairless said a $2 daily boost in pay, as apparently demanded by the CIO, would push the cost of steel up $6 a ton when the OPA rule is already forcing the industry to sell products at a loss.

"It is time to put the record straight. No matter how much United States Steel may believe in high wages, they cannot be increased in the industry at this time unless prices are materially increased," Fairless said.

President Cuts Funds Of Navy By 17 Billion

Cut-Backs In Enlistment, Construction, Aviation Mean Navy Gets Less Money

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(INS)—President Truman recommended to Congress Friday a cut-back of nearly 17 billion dollars in naval appropriations.

Included in the proposed reductions was 11 billion 518 million dollars in current appropriations and authorization for the Navy department. Another 5 billion 306 million dollar cut will be made in unrequited balance of appropriations for prior years.

In proposing the cut-backs, Mr. Truman told Congress that "consideration has been given to the tremendous problem of demobilization and the yet undetermined requirements of a peacetime Navy."

"As indicated in my letter of September 5, 1945, I plan a continuing review of naval appropriations with the view of recommending further adjustments as conditions warrant," Mr. Truman said.

The President suggested also that the appropriate committees of Congress review completely existing legislation authorizing the construction of naval vessels.

Involved in the eleven and one-half billion figure is three billion 212 million dollars of contract authorizations for the current fiscal year and the following major items in current appropriations:

Savings because of demobilization in enlisted personnel from a strength of three million 360 thousand at the rate of approximately 250,000 per month; cut-backs in the ship construction program, which permitted the withdrawal of one billion 47 million; maintenance and operation of ships and Navy yards including fuel, one billion 372 million; aviation program, one billion 404 million; ordnance, two billion 650 million.
